100% of the ground lies outside Tunisia, where the register cannot see.
The commonest family name in Tunisia, and its home is Jendouba, across the frontier from where the 1881 sheet prints the tribe. Abidi can also derive from the given name Abid.

A nisba is a name, not a membership: not every holder descends from the tribe, and the register cannot say which do. The ground is the largest ellipse the sheets support, bounded by neighbouring names, not a boundary anyone drew (MapsTN, tribal_spread.csv). Dots fall at random inside the imada that holds them. Counts: ISIE register, 6 July 2024; boundaries: OCHA COD-AB admin4.
